

David Ritchie, MA (Oxon)
Call 1970

David Ritchie has practised since 1971 principally in the Chancery Division.

His practice covers drafting and advisory work, as well as litigation, across the whole range of Chancery work, including trusts, charities, wills, probate, administration of estates, family provision, real property, partnership, insolvency, conflict of law and professional negligence.

He has been concerned in litigation in trust matters in the Cayman Islands and advisory work in relation to other foreign trust jurisdictions.

David is a member of the Chancery Bar Association
