

TEN OLD SQUARE

CHANCERY AND COMMERCIAL BARRISTERS

APPLICATION

JUNIOR EVENT

ORDER, ORDER! TOP TIPS FOR INTERIM APPLICATIONS

At this informal event, junior members of chambers will provide their top tips on handling interim applications, both in commercial and private client litigation

THURSDAY 20 SEPTEMBER 2018 | 6.15 PM

THE YORKSHIRE GREY PUB | 2 THEOBALDS ROAD | LONDON WC1X 8PN

www.tenoldsquare.com

ORDER, ORDER! TOP TIPS FOR INTERIM APPLICATIONS

At this informal event, junior members of chambers will provide their top tips on handling applications, both in commercial and private client litigation. Topics will include:

- The difference between proprietary and freezing injunctions;
- Joining the right parties; and
- When you need to make a Beddoe application.

Members of chambers will then be on hand over drinks to answer those litigation questions you never dared ask.

CHAIR

Leon Pickering

SPEAKERS

Gideon Roseman and James MacDougald

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Junior practitioners wishing to learn more about litigation or simply wanting to refresh their knowledge

PROGRAMME

6.15pm

Drinks and registration

6.30pm – 7.00pm

Talks for barristers

7.00pm onwards

Drinks and the opportunity to informally discuss queries with junior members of chambers

VENUE

The Yorkshire Grey Pub, 2 Theobalds Road, London WC1X 8PN

Naomi Winston

Naomi is an experienced commercial chancery practitioner, regularly advising and acting in both contentious and non-contentious matters. She frequently acts as sole counsel and has also been led by Jeremy Callman in a number of cases, most notably Castledine v Bentley Jennison (a firm) [2011] EWHC 2363 (Ch) and Reinhard v Ondra LLP [2016] 2 BCLC 571. Naomi is recommended in the partnership section of Chambers UK 2017 who report that she is "extremely bright, with a deep and detailed knowledge of all things partnership and LLP" previous editions report that "she has impressive fingertip command of points of law and authorities" and that she is "thorough and hardworking, and has a phenomenal brain". She "is noted for her strong cross-examination skills and her ease with clients". The 2016 Legal 500 say that she is "very easy to work with and a pleasure to instruct".

Gideon Roseman

Gideon specialises in commercial litigation, commercial fraud, insolvency, shareholders' disputes, property litigation (domestic and international) and professional negligence. He has particular expertise in relation to worldwide and domestic freezing orders, as well as other interlocutory prohibitory and mandatory injunctions. He also advises in contentious and non-contentious partnership matters. He has significant experience of high value and complex litigation in Court and arbitration. He is regularly instructed to attend mediations. Gideon is recommended in the partnership section of Chambers UK 2018 who report he is a "lawyer who has a deep knowledge of partnership law, and offers meticulous preparation and razor-sharp analysis", "he's very good with clients and determined not to lose" and is "robust and effective court advocate."

The 2017 Legal 500 report that he "has an impressive aura in court, and is respected by judges in the Chancery Division." Chambers UK 2017 report he is "Absolutely fantastic; he drills down into the detail very well, explains and advocates in a clear way, and if the other side has got it wrong, he makes sure the judge knows it!" and that he is a "really hard worker with bucket-loads of passion: he's good on his feet, good at the paperwork, full of energy and liked by clients."

Leon Pickering

Leon Pickering has a chancery and commercial practice, with a particular emphasis on traditional chancery and the Court of Protection. His private client practice covers onshore and offshore trust and inheritance disputes and non-contentious work. Chambers UK describes him as "excellent in court" "really, really bright and very highly rated in the market" and "a rising star in the field". He gives seminars on all aspects of private client work and teaches the administration of trusts course on the STEP diploma. Leon is a member of the judiciary of the rugby football union.

James MacDougald

James MacDougald has a general Chancery practice including litigation, advice and drafting in all of Chambers' core disciplines. He has particular experience of private client work and advises regularly on wills, trust and estate administration, capital taxation, Court of Protection matters, contentious trust and inheritance disputes and family provision claims. As a litigator, James appears in trust and estate disputes both as sole counsel and as part of a team. He also undertakes property, insolvency and general commercial litigation in the High Court and the County Court. While the majority of his cases are litigated in the English courts, he has also recently been instructed in trust disputes in Jersey, Guernsey, Bermuda and the Bahamas.

James is ranked in Chambers and Partners 2018 (Traditional Chancery, Up and Coming): "His technical knowledge is very good and he gets to grips with things very quickly. Even though he is a young junior, he really inspires confidence in solicitors and clients. He is very thoughtful in his approach and never shy to give his opinion on matters".

Bryony Robinson

Bryony's practice spans all of Chambers' practice areas, including probate and trust disputes, partnership matters and property. Bryony regularly appears in her own right in the County Court and High Court, as well as being led on larger cases. Bryony has also appeared in the First Tier Tribunal and attends mediations.

Prior to commencing pupillage Bryony was a Judicial Assistant to Lord Justice Longmore in the Court of Appeal. This has given her a valuable understanding of the appellate process and thorough knowledge of commercial litigation.

James Egan

James Egan practices in all areas of contentious and non-contentious chancery, commercial and insolvency work with an emphasis on insolvency and property matters. He appears regularly in his own right in the County Court and High Court within these practice areas. James' experience encompasses all aspects of litigation including pre-action advice and drafting, interim applications including summary judgment, set aside applications and strike out, through to enforcement.

James Poole

James Poole joined chambers in October 2017 following the successful completion of his pupillage. James' practice spans the spectrum of chambers' core practice areas, and often involves interim applications; in recent months he has successfully sought freezing injunctions against defaulting trustees and wide-ranging Norwich Pharmacal Orders against a variety of recipients of trust assets. Before coming to the Bar, James taught at secondary and tertiary level in England and Vanuatu, and is equally comfortable being instructed in both English and Bislama.

