

JONATHAN GAVAGHAN - Privacy Notice

General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”)

Please read the following information carefully. This privacy notice contains information about the information collected, stored and otherwise processed about you and the reasons for the processing. It also tells you who I share this information with, the security mechanisms I have put in place to protect your data and how to contact me in the event you need further information.

Who Am I?

My name is Jonathan Gavaghan and, pursuant to my instructions (or in connection with any executive functions I perform in Chambers), I collect, use and am responsible for any personal information I process about you. When I do this I am the ‘controller’ of this information for the purposes of the GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018.

I am registered with the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) as a Data Controller for the personal data that I hold and process as a barrister. My registered address is my Chambers’ address which is 10 Old Square, Lincoln’s Inn, London WC2A 3SU and my ICO registration number is Z4681686.

If you need to contact me about your data or the processing carried out, you can use the contact details at the end of this document.

I collect, use and am responsible for personal information:

- (i) pursuant to my instructions and in connection with the provision of legal services;
- (ii) in connection with any executive and management functions I perform in Chambers, in particular as a member of the Chambers’ Marketing Committee;
- (iii) in connection with and in relation to recruitment and pupillage matters.

In relation to information collected and/or used by me on behalf of Chambers in relation to applications to Chambers for tenancy, pupillage, mini-pupillage or a work shadowing opportunity I am either a joint controller or a controller in common or a data processor of this information for the purposes of the GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018.

In relation to information collected and/or used by me on behalf of Chambers in relation to other executive functions, I am either a joint controller or a controller in common or a data processor of this information for the purposes of the GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018.

What do I do with your information?

Information collected

When carrying out the provision of legal services or providing a reference or carrying out my management roles in Chambers including in relation to Pupillage and Marketing I collect some or all of the following personal information that you provide:

- a. personal details
- b. family details
- c. lifestyle and social circumstances
- d. goods and services
- e. financial details
- f. education, training and employment details
- g. physical or mental health details
- h. racial or ethnic origin
- i. political opinions
- j. religious, philosophical or other beliefs
- k. trade union membership
- l. sex life or sexual orientation
- m. genetic data
- n. biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person
- o. criminal proceedings, outcomes and sentences, and related security measures
- p. other personal data relevant to instructions to provide legal services, including data specific to the instructions in question.

Information collected from other sources.

The same categories of information may also be obtained from third parties, such as other legal professionals or experts, members of the public, your family and friends, witnesses, courts and other tribunals, investigators, government departments, regulators, law reports, reports of the decisions of courts and other tribunals, case summaries published by law reporting services on the internet or elsewhere, published legal articles, public records and registers or referees.

How I use your personal information: Purposes

I may use your personal information for the following purposes:

- i. to provide legal services to my clients, including the provision of legal advice and representation in courts, tribunals, arbitrations, and mediations
- ii. to keep accounting records and carry out office administration
- iii. to take or defend legal or regulatory proceedings or to exercise a lien
- iv. to respond to potential complaints or make complaints
- v. to check for potential conflicts of interest in relation to future potential cases
- vi. to promote and market my services (including writing legal articles and textbooks and giving lectures)
- vii. to carry out anti-money laundering and terrorist financing checks

- viii. to train other barristers and when providing work-shadowing opportunities (including but not limited to mini-pupillages)
- ix. to respond to requests for references
- x. when procuring goods or using services in relation to my practice
- xi. to consider applications to Chambers for tenancy, pupillage, mini-pupillage, work shadowing opportunities and/or any employed role with Chambers
- xii. to carry out management functions as a member of the Marketing Committee and assist in the administration of Chambers
- xiii. as required or permitted by law.

Whether information has to be provided by you, and why

If I have been instructed by you or on your behalf on a case or if you have asked for a reference, or if you have applied to become a member of Chambers, to become a pupil in Chambers or for a work-shadowing opportunity in Chambers or for a job in Chambers, your personal information has to be provided, to enable me to provide you with advice or representation or the reference or to consider your application (as the case may be), and to enable me to comply with my professional obligations, and to keep accounting records.

The legal basis for processing your personal information

I rely on the following as the lawful bases on which I collect and use your personal information:

- If you have consented to the processing of your personal information, then I may process your information for the Purposes set out above to the extent to which you have consented to me doing so.
- If you are a client, processing is necessary for the performance of a contract for legal services or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract.
- If you are a person whose data has been published in a judgment in the course of earlier legal proceedings, I am entitled by law to process the information as the processing is necessary for legal proceedings, legal advice, or otherwise for establishing, exercising or defending legal rights (i.e. those of my clients)
- If you are an applicant for tenancy, pupillage, a work-shadowing opportunity or job in Chambers, processing is necessary in order to consider your application (i.e. to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract).
- If you are the referee of an applicant for tenancy, pupillage, mini-pupillage, a work-shadowing opportunity or job in Chambers, processing is necessary in order to consider the application and is assumed to have been provided with your consent given to the applicant.
- In relation to information which is in categories (g) to (o) above (these being categories which are considered to include particularly sensitive information and which include information about criminal convictions or proceedings) I rely on your consent for any processing for the purposes set out in purposes (ii), (iv), (vi), (viii) and (ix) above. I need your consent to carry out processing of this data for these purposes. However, if you do not consent to processing for purposes (iv) and (ix) (responding to potential complaints and providing a reference) I will be unable to take your case or to provide a reference.

This is because I need to be able to retain all the material about your case until there is no prospect of a complaint and to provide an informed and complete reference.

- In relation to information in categories (g) to (o) above (these being categories which are considered to be particularly sensitive information and include information about criminal convictions or proceedings), I am entitled by law to process the information where the processing is necessary for legal proceedings, legal advice, or otherwise for establishing, exercising or defending legal rights.
- In relation to information which is not in categories (g) to (o) above, I rely on my legitimate interest and/or the legitimate interests of a third party in carrying out the processing for the Purposes set out above. This includes information which I hold by reason of it having been published in a judgment or case summary of earlier legal proceedings.
- In certain circumstances processing may be necessary in order that I can comply with a legal obligation to which I am subject (including carrying out anti-money laundering or terrorist financing checks).

Who will I share your personal information with?

If you are a client, some of the information you provide will be protected by legal professional privilege unless and until the information becomes public in the course of any proceedings or otherwise. As a barrister I have an obligation to keep your information confidential, except where it otherwise becomes public or is disclosed as part of the case or proceedings.

It may be necessary to share your information with the following:

- data processors, such as my Chambers staff, IT support staff, email providers, data storage providers
- other legal professionals
- experts and other witnesses
- prosecution authorities
- courts and tribunals
- the staff in my chambers
- pupil (i.e. trainee) barristers and those to whom I am providing work shadowing opportunities (including mini-pupils)
- lay clients
- family and associates of the person whose personal information I am processing
- in the event of complaints, the Head of Chambers, other members of Chambers who deal with complaints, my insurers, the Bar Standards Board, and the Legal Ombudsman
- other regulatory authorities
- current, past or prospective employers
- education and examining bodies
- business associates, professional advisers and trade bodies, e.g. the Bar Council
- the intended recipient, where you have asked me to provide a reference.
- publishers of and researchers for the legal directories including but not limited to Chambers and Partners and the Legal 500
- publishers of legal textbooks and legal journals (both online and in hard copy)
- Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs

- my accountants
- your referees where you are applying to Chambers whether for tenancy, pupillage, mini-pupillage, work shadowing or other job.

I may be required to provide your information to regulators, such as the Bar Standards Board, the Financial Conduct Authority or the Information Commissioner's Office. In the case of the Information Commissioner's Office, there is a risk that your information may lawfully be disclosed by them for the purpose of any other civil or criminal proceedings, without my consent or yours, which includes privileged information.

I may also be required to disclose your information to the police or intelligence services, where required or permitted by law.

Sources of information

The personal information I obtain may include information which has been obtained from:

- other legal professionals
- experts and other witnesses
- prosecution authorities
- courts and tribunals
- mediators and arbitrators;
- pupil barristers (i.e. trainee barristers);
- lay clients;
- family and associates of the person whose personal information I am processing;
- in the event of complaints, the Head of Chambers, other members of Chambers who deal with complaints, my insurers, the Bar Standards Board, and the Legal Ombudsman;
- other regulatory authorities;
- in the event of claims intimated or made, my insurers;
- current, past or prospective employers;
- education and examining bodies;
- business associates, professional advisers and trade bodies, e.g. the Bar Council;
- the intended recipient, where you have asked me to provide a reference;
- legal judgments and decisions of courts and tribunals which have been published by the relevant court or tribunal or case summaries which have been published by a law reporter;
- data processors, such as my Chambers staff, IT support staff, email providers, data storage providers
- public sources, such as the press, public registers and law reports.

Transfer to third countries and international organisations

This privacy notice is of general application and as such it is not possible to state whether it will be necessary to transfer your information internationally.

If the case involves persons or parties outside the UK, then it may be necessary to transfer some of your information outside the UK.

Also, I use reputable cloud data storage and am satisfied that any data transferred onto such storage is fully protected and safeguarded as required by the UK GDPR.

If you would like any further information please use the contact details at the end of this document.

How long will I store your personal data?

I will normally store all your information:

- until at least 1 year after the expiry of any relevant limitation period from the date of the last item of work carried out, the date of the last payment received or the date on which all outstanding payments are written off, whichever is the latest. (The relevant limitation period may be 6 years, 12 years or 15 years, or longer where the case includes information relating to a minor or an adult lacking capacity.) This is because the data may be needed for potential legal proceedings.
- I will store some of your information which I need to carry out conflict checks for the rest of my career. However, this is likely to be limited to your name and contact details, the name and contact details of any opposing parties and the name of the case, as well as the name of any trustee or trustees of any trust or estate with which the case was concerned
- This will not include any information within categories (g) to (o) above.
- If you are an applicant to Chambers for pupillage, a work-shadowing opportunity or for a starter tenancy, your information will be stored in line with the Pupillage and Junior Recruitment Policy which is published on the Ten Old Square website.
- If you are an established practitioner applying for tenancy, I may store your information for a period of 3 years (to assist with Chambers' administration), save where you are a successful applicant in which case the information will be stored indefinitely.
- Information related to anti-money laundering checks will be retained until five years after the completion of the transaction or the end of the business relationship, whichever is the later;
- Names and contact details held for marketing purposes will be stored indefinitely or until I (or my Clerks) become aware (or I am informed) that the individual to whom the personal data relates has ceased to be a potential client.

At the end of the period of retention, the data will be reviewed and the data will be marked for deletion or for retention for a further period. Save as specified above, continued retention is likely to occur only where the information is needed for legal proceedings, regulatory matters or active complaints. Deletion will be carried out (without further notice to you) as soon as reasonably practicable after the data is marked for deletion.

Consent

As explained above, I am relying on your explicit consent to process your information in categories (g) to (o) above. You provided this consent when you agreed that I would provide legal services or you asked me to provide a reference or you made an application to Chambers.

You have the right to withdraw this consent at any time, but this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing activity I have carried out prior to you withdrawing your consent. However, where I also rely on other bases for processing your information, you may not be able to prevent processing of your data. For example, if you have asked me to work for you and I have spent time on your case, you may owe me money which I will be entitled to claim.

If there is an issue with the processing of your information, please contact my Clerks using the contact details below.

Your Rights

The UK GDPR gives you specific rights in terms of your personal data. For example, you have the right of access to the information I hold and what I use it for; you can ask for a copy of the personal information I hold about you.

You can ask me to correct any inaccuracies with the personal data I hold, and you can ask me to stop sending you direct mail or emails or, in some circumstances, ask me to stop processing your details.

Finally, if I do something irregular or improper with your personal data, you can complain to the ICO if you are unhappy with how I have processed your information or dealt with your query. You may also seek compensation for any distress you are caused or loss you have incurred.

You can find out more information from the ICO's website:

http://ico.org.uk/for_the_public/personal_information

Accessing and correcting your information

You may request access to, correction of, or a copy of your information by contacting me using the contact details set out below.

Marketing Emails

You may opt out of receiving emails and other messages from my practice by following the instructions in those messages.

How to make a complaint

The GDPR also gives you the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioners' Office if you are in the UK, or with the supervisory authority of the Member State where you work, normally live or where the alleged infringement of data protection laws occurred. The Information Commissioner's Office can be contacted at <http://ico.org.uk/concerns/>.

Future Processing

I do not intend to process your personal information except for the reasons stated within this privacy notice. If this changes, this privacy notice will be amended and placed on the Ten Old Square website.

Changes to this privacy notice

This privacy notice was originally published on 23rd May 2018 and was last amended on 1 March 2024.

I continually review my privacy practices and may change this policy from time to time. When I do it will be placed on the Ten Old Square website and will also be available on request from the contact details below.
